

Greenhouse – art installation by Norwegian artist Lise Wulff in collaboration with Bucuresti youth - artist statement

A greenhouse with an unusual pattern of colors lights up its surroundings. Looking up-close, one discovers that the colors stem from smaller and larger photos. Each photo is in itself monochrome, but all together, the photos create a variety of green, blue, pink, yellow, purple and orange squares.

The photos displayed are taken by Bucuresti youth. Through workshops and collaboration with Norwegian artist Lise Wulff, the youth were challenged to interpret the theme nature. They documented abandoned buildings in their surroundings where nature is about to take over, creating awareness on how humans and nature are intertwined.

Normally, a greenhouse may give ideal conditions for plants to grow and prosper. In this installation, the plants are instead represented on the walls.
